Pruning and training of muscadine grape vines are important in obtaining high yields of top-quality fruit. County agent Byron Dyer, pointed out this week, urging Bulloch County farmers and fruit growers to prune their muscadine vines and to train them to the trellis wire system.

"Established muscadine grapes should be pruned between now and December 20 or immediately after the first killing frost," Mr. Dyer said. "Pruning should begin when plants are young and be continued each year. Current season's growth on newly-set plants may be removed in training the vine at any time during the year without injury."

Vines should be trained as soon as possible to establish the frame-work of the vine. The main frame-

4 TWO-DAY TRACTOR MAINTENANCE SHORT COURSES ANNOUNCED

Instruction in tractor maintenance is being given to 4-H club boys and local adult leaders at four two-day short courses being held the first two weeks of this month. G. L. Johnson, agricultural engineer and R. J. Richardson, assistant State 4-H club leader, for the Georgia Extension-Service district will conduct the week.

Objective of the short courses is to train individuals to assist county agricultural agents in carrying out tractor maintenance program in their counties. Johnson and Richardson said. The short courses are sponsored by the State Extension Service in cooperation with the National Committee on Boys and Girls' Club Work and an Oil Company.

Twenty scholarships covering transportation, meals and lodging are being awarded to each of the four short courses. The courses are being held at Griffin, December 8-9; Statesboro, December 9-10; Atlanta, December 12-13. One was held at Athens December 2-3.

GEORGIA 4-HERS WITH FOUR HONORS AT CLUB CONGRESS

Georgia's 4-H club organization, one of the best known in the Nation, this week brought added honors to the State by winning 4 national championships at the National 4-H Club Congress now in session in Chicago.

With several projects still to be judged, Georgia's 23 delegates took four first places in national competition through Wednesday, December 4.

National winners already selected are: Christine Copelan, Greene County, frozen food project; Lorry Torrence, Baldwin, soil conservation; Pat Wall, Chatham, girls' record keeping project, and Hazel Gentry, Greene, farm safety project.

The winning Georgia clubsters have been awarded the following prizes: Christine Copelan, $50 Savings Bond; Lorry Torrence, Pat Wall and Hazel Gentry, $200 college scholarships. All the winners received a free trip to the Club Congress in Chicago.

FEED COSTS HIGHER

Costs of feed bought for livestock and poultry in Georgia have climbed sharply. While farmers spent a little more than six million dollars for feed in 1939, this cost had risen to 33 and one half million per year by the end of 1944, latest date for which figures are available. Livestock men point out that a part of this increase is due to the added number of livestock and chickens on farms and urge that home-grown feed will help reduce feed costs in many instances.

By Using BERND'S STATE FORMULA BRAND MINERALS

Bernd's State Formula Brand Minerals are compounded especially for Georgia Livestock by a Georgia manufacturer. Only after extensive investigation as to what minerals have proven beneficial when added to the rations of Georgia Livestock were Bernd's State Formula Minerals compounded. By using these minerals the Georgia feeder gets a mineral mixture that contains only what the animal needs. He does not have to buy a mineral containing unnecessary ingredients. When a stock owner buys state formula brand minerals, he saves on cost of mineral and the animal will not eat more feed than is necessary trying to get minerals that are not in the feed. Therefore the saving is two fold: First, buying only minerals needed; second, using less feed to produce better animals and animal products.

From a formula suggested by Dr. T. J. Jones of the State University, Animal Husbandry Dept., Athens, Georgia.

FOR SOUTH GEORGIA

WHY MUST MINERALS BE USED IN ADDITION TO REGULAR FEED

In Georgia we are growing feed on low quality soils and soils that have been drained of minerals by crops in past years. Every year, more minerals are removed from the soil, making the feed grown on that soil low in quality or mineral deficient. This mineral must be furnished from some other source.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, December 12, 1946

NUMBER 4

HE RODE THE MAIL—Colonel Albert M. Deal, riding "Lady" receives a packet of mail from Mrs.
Savannah to Statesboro on Friday of last week. The Pony Express Mail was a feature of the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial celebration held here December 4-7. —Cut courtesy Atlanta Constitution

Bohler, Shirley Tillman, and Willette Lane. The costumes worn by the group are from 50 to 100 years

Carnival Spirit Prevails At Bulloch Birthday Party

This is no attempt to evaluate the Bulloch County Sesqui-Centennial held here last week. Historians and news analysts adore that sort of thing thronged the scene of festivities, and exhibits; the carnival spirit that prevailed, the gay abandon that is possible only when folk cast cares and problems to the four winds and surrender to the charm of by-gone-days.

The sun hit Jane's snout in the face Friday morning with the order to "Get up, Get out of Bed," and as the percolator perked and the toaster toasted, a small radio, hastily plugged in on top of the stove, set right at 1490 on the dial brought the call letters "W-WNS" and coffee and toast were forgotten as she listened to the broadcast that started the Pony Express on its way from the Savannah Post Office to Statesboro.
This Pony Express idea sounds like it might have originated in the mind of a Hollywood director. It really focused attention on the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the birth of Bulloch. The program was splendid and a new star was born when Col. Albert Deal, who rode the first lap of the Express with the mail pack, projected his voice and personality over the air lanes. His assurance to an anxious wife, who more than anyone else, remembered that, after all, Albert is 78 years old and that most anything can happen these days, "The mare is belaving herself," he said. "Tell the madam I'm all right," was the high spot on the broadcast.

Among the other admiring listeners were Cynthia and Mary Emmie Johnston, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston, Cynthia and Col. Deal share the same birthday, and she very frankly loves the Colonel. She knew that eventually he would come riding right by her house on his way to the Exposition grounds, so she took her seat and waited for hours to catch a glimpse of him on "Lady."

Jane negotiated the crowded highway out to the Airbase and at the Woman's Club Building

TC Makes Plans To 'Fight Fire'

The Georgia Teachers College is doing something about its fire hazards.

Monday of this week during a chapel program, Dr. Marvin S.
Pittman reviewed some of the horror of the Wincoff Hotel Fire in Atlanta last week in which over 100 people were burned to death and over 100 injured. He reported to the student body that the murder one of their college mates, Wilton Miller, of Gordon, Ga., was among those who died in the fire.

"All young people of Georgia, youth like you, were among those to die in the hotel, supposedly fireproof," he told the student body. "This brings to us a shock and a challenge," he added.

He stated that this week is designated as "Fire Prevention Week" at the college. Committees have been appointed to organize the students and faculty. The Industrial Arts Club volunteered as a fire brigade.

Yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock all activities at the college were suspended while the students in all the dormitories were to be present in the gym.

Dr. Pittman stated that the fire prevention program for the college will consist of four phases: The first is "fire prevention." "We must be careful," he said. Then provisions made for escape in case of fire. "We want every dormitory organized to the last individual, so he will know exactly where he will find the outlet. We must remove all rubbish from the exits, keep fire extinguishers will be kept in good condition, and last fire drills to be sure that the dormitories can be emptied.

The set-up is being provided to care for the injured just in case of a fire.

County Library Now Has $21,000

In a report made to the Regional Librarians' Conference held in Atlanta December 5 and 6, Miss Rebelle Sorrier, librarian of the Bulloch County Library, told the progress made by the library here.

According to Miss Sorrier more than $16,000 has been raised during this year for the library building planned for the county, making a total of $21,000 raised in addition to a building lot valued at $3,000. She told the conference that there are ten bookmobile routes in the county, with five deposits in homes and fourteen school stops.

Her report shows that the library serves a population of 32,298 on an appropriation of 23 cents per person.

While at the conference Miss Sorrier attended all the sessions at the Piedmont Hotel. The conference included the area superintendents of the State Department of Education staff, as well as the regional librarians.

W. H. ELLIS DRUG CO IS COOPERATING WITH OTHERS IN TB SEAL CAMPAIGN

Last week we published an advertisement promoting the sale of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce. The seals are on sale at all drug stores but the name of left off the list of drug stores in Statesboro. This will correct the omission and assure our readers the W. H. Ellis Drug Co. is cooperating in the fullest extent in the sale of the Christmas Seals.

Cone Is Winner In City Election

J. Gilbert Cone was elected mayor in the city election held here on Saturday of last week. Mr.
Cone received 489 votes and Mr. Alfred Dorman received 394 votes. 882 votes were cast for Allen R.
Lanier and Inman Foy for councilmen.

Mr. Cone makes the following statement upon his victory:

"I would like to take this opportunity to express my profound gratitude for the honor the people of Statesboro have shown me in electing me mayor of the city. I shall constantly strive to justify the vote of confidence afforded me in Saturday's election. On behalf of myself and each member of the City Council I solicit the good will and cooperation of every citizen in the responsibility of working for the common interest of our community."

You Can Now Buy Post Office Stamp If Post Office Is Closed

So you got caught short—the post office closed and you have an important letter that you must mail, and no stamp.
Well that is different now.
The Statesboro Jaycees have erected three U. S. Postal stamp vending machines on the streets of Statesboro which do not observe any hours—open all day and night. One is located on E.
Main Street in front of the Georgia Power Company; one is in front of the Jackel Hotel and one is in front of the Post Office Building.

Old Maid's Convention To Be Held Tonight At SHS Auditorium
